

MCTC Staff, Inmates Donate Money to Victims' Rights Groups.

On April 19, Robin Woolford, executive director of the Criminal Injuries Compensation Board, visited Maryland Correctional Training Center to accept several checks for his organization.

Terri Hollingshead and Gary Carter collected more than $800 with a sausage sale and Case Manager Matthew Biddle presented the money.

Additionally, $221 from the sale went to "Remembering the True Victims Foundation," which the group mailed.

Inmates presented Woolford with a total of $1,450, including proceeds from a walkathon.

Source: Hagerstown Herald Mail
5/16/08